ABSTRACT

Though DeFi and cryptocurrency seem to be widely adopted, they are not. Though a number of coins arrive at the market, they do not have any purpose. This drives the community to keep looking for the next evolutionary token. Meme coin is the hottest trend and the major problem with certain meme coins in the market is they neither bring any value to the token holders nor have a stable price floor. DBTC on the other hand is a community-driven meme ecosystem that directly incentivizes the creators. DBTC in addition to this rewards the regular users as well. DBTC is a community hub where people can find quite an interesting use of the DeFi protocols that takes the fruits of decentralization to everyone.

PROBLEM STATEMENT

- Although there are many Meme communities prevailing in the cryptocurrency space, none have proved to offer 100% decentralization and democratization.
- Those meme communities engage in shady schemes to increase their revenue.
- The primary way of monetization is through ads, and little to none of this income gets passed on to the creators.

DBTC - TOKENOMICS

The reason behind the hindrance of the mass adoption of cryptocurrency is its unstable and highly volatile nature. Though there are several meme tokens, people always look for a sustainable and viable one. To ensure the stability of DBTC, 20% of the total circulating supply is liquidity locked. DBTC supports the burning mechanism, as it wants to keep the liquidity high and at the same time make the natural increase in value with an artificial driving force. The 20% is locked as DBTC/BNB pairs to ensure stability. This helps DBTC to get rid of rug-pull, the major issue associated with the decentralized platforms today.

DBTC - MECHANISMS

DBTC has three main functions and it performs them with the 9% network fee incurred by the DBTC network.

01

Reflection

5% of the fee is reflected back to the holder wallets

02

LP Acquisition

2% is added as liquidity to the Pancakeswap pools

03

Burn

Other 2% is burned on every transaction to increase the demand

DBTC – FEE BREAKUP

4%

4% fee is split 50/50 half of which is sold by the contract into BNB, while the other half of the DBTC tokens are paired automatically with the previously mentioned BNB and added as a liquidity pair on Pancake Swap.

4%

5%

5%

Redistributed to all existing holders
